[By Telegraph to The Age]
Washington, March 11.—Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission, said that so far as the commission is concerned the taking of testimony in the investigation of the Harriman lines is closed, but that the commission has under consideration the advisability of asking the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York to compel Mr. Harriman to answer certain questions which he did not answer to the satisfaction of the commission when he was on the witness stand in New York. Pending such action Mr. Harriman's counsel asked to be heard before the commission April 4, which request was granted, and that date was recently fixed for arguments.

Mr. Harriman will have a conference with President Roosevelt next Thursday.

When Mr. Harriman's counsel asked for the hearing on April 4, at which time they want to present arguments regarding the contention that the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific are parallel and competing lines, it was understood by the commission that if Mr. Harriman's counsel desired to submit additional testimony on that date they might do so, and also if the commission desired to bring out any new point it would, but that any such additional testimony, if any, would be brief. Asked if Mr. Harriman was likely to go on the stand in such event, Chairman Knapp replied that if Mr. Harriman desired to take the stand he would be permitted.

CALLED FOR TRIAL.

Case of the Federal Government
Against the Lackawanna.

New York, March 11.—One of the cases of the federal government in the sugar rebate cases, that against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company, was called for trial here today. In this case the government charges that payments made to Lowell M. Palmer, owner of Palmer's docks, Brooklyn, of 2 cents per 100 pounds on sugar shipped beyond Buffalo, and 1 cent per 100 pounds on shipments to points this side of Buffalo, constituted a rebate within the meaning of the law. The railroad contends that the payment made to Palmer was to recompense him for his loss in profit on business given the Lackawanna through the fact that the Lackawanna's freight did not pass through his docks, while that of other roads did.

COURT OPENS WITH NEW
JUDGE ON THE BENCHBusy Grind Starts at Tap of Mallet
---The Bordenkircher Case
Wednesday

Judge Sam H. Nicholas formally opened common pleas court Monday morning at nine o'clock and the case of the State of Ohio vs. Charles Carter, of West Lafayette, charged with assault and battery was taken up before noon. There are a number of criminal cases to be disposed of, most important of all being the Ida Mae Bordenkircher murder case, which starts Wednesday morning of this week.

The case of Elmer Sells of Newcomerstown charged with using profane language and being disorderly on a train, was nolleed owing to the fact that the prosecuting witness, Railroad Detective Jay Maunor, of Zanesville, died recently. The case was set for Tuesday but Prosecutor McDowell asked that the case be dropped as almost all the evidence was to have come from the detective.

The cases set for Monday were Ohio vs. Charles Carter and Ohio vs. Frank Kist was indicted by the last grand jury for rape with consent. Lela Lovelless, a 16-year-old girl of Isleta, being the alleged victim. J. C. Adams is defending Kist, J. C. Daucherty and George E. Roche are defending Carter.

The case of Godfrey Kleinknecht, who was brought here from Akron a few days ago to answer to a delicate charge, will be taken up as soon as the Carter and Kist cases are disposed of. His attorney, J. C. Adams, stated that Kleinknecht had gone back to Akron thinking his case would not be tried until after the Bordenkircher case but upon the advice of Clerk McBane, John Kleinknecht went to Akron after his brother Sunday morning and they arrived here Monday noon.

As Gus Pfous was the only juror present at the opening of court Judge Nicholas took up the civil docket with the attorneys. The case of G. S. Lawyer vs. Thomas McCoy was dismissed without prejudice at the costs of the plaintiff, his attorney, Geo. E. Roche, stating that his client has departed and his address is unknown. W. S. Merrell represented Thomas McCoy. Judge Nicholas appointed William Wright court constable soon after the opening of court and Mr. Wright entered upon his new duties at once.

He will assist Bailiff Jeffries, whose hearing is slightly defective.

Judge Nicholas stated that Judge Seward, of Newark, has gone to California with his wife, whose health is broken, and that Judge Seward has requested the judges of the five districts to assist him in his work during his absence by holding court there one week. Judge Nicholas hopes to be able to arrange the work here so that he can go to Licking county one week in April.

Two witnesses were examined in the Carter case Monday morning. Carl Johnson, the man who was cut with a razor by Carter, was called first. Then came Jerry Shryock, the proprietor of the barber shop where the quarrel occurred late the Saturday night before Christmas. Shryock, however, stated that there was no quarrel that he noticed. After Shryock's testimony, Prosecutor McDowell at eleven o'clock said "We rest" and Judge Nicholas adjourned court until one o'clock to give Attorney Daucherty time to confer with his client and witnesses.

AT 3 P. M. JUDGE NICHOLAS FINISHED HIS CHARGE TO THE JURY AFTER VIGOROUS ARGUMENTS BY THE ATTORNEYS. THE JURY IS EXPECTED IN THIS AFTERNOON.

The jury in the case is as follows and some of the men will probably sit in the Bordenkircher case: John C. Miskimen, S. A. Pfous, L. B. Barcroft, C. D. Conley, Henry Veigel, T. J. Hanley, John Lorenz, Leander Swiger, J. M. McCollum, David Zimmerman, Geo. Miller and John B. Bassett.

A big crowd is down from West Lafayette and Isleta.

Danville, Ill., March 11.—Judge Kimbrough decided that the Chicago ordinance on which was based the trial of William J. BODY OF PROPHET
IN STATEFuneral of Dowie to be Marked With Much
Pomp

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Chicago, March 11.—Funeral services over the remains of John Alexander Dowie, who died suddenly in Zion City Saturday, will be marked by the touch of ostentation. The white-robed choir, which was shorn of its vestments when Overseer Voliva assumed control in Zion City, will take an active part in the ceremonies, which will occur on Thursday afternoon in Zion tabernacle. Judge V. V. Barnes, one of the few elders of the church who remained faithful to Dowie, will conduct the services and will deliver the funeral sermon. During Tuesday and Wednesday the body will lie in state in the reception hall of Shiloh house, the Dowie residence. The burial will be at Lake Mound cemetery at Zion City, beside the grave of Dowie's daughter, who died several years ago from burns caused by an explosion of an alcohol lamp. No memorial services for the deceased were held in Zion City Sunday, the only public reference to his death being a tribute paid Dowie by one of the deacons at the early morning church service. The regular order of services was observed. Mrs. Dowie and Gladstone, her son, have arrived at Zion City.

Wilbur G. Voliva, leading the factions opposing Dowie in Zion, reconsidered his determination to say nothing regarding the death of Dowie, and declared that the death of the former leader will not affect the future of the church in any adverse manner. "Because of Dowie's sad mental and physical condition," said Voliva, "he has been a hindrance in many ways. Now that he has gone, all bitter feeling, just or unjust, will disappear."

The dead prophet was born in Scotland in 1847, his parents removing in 1860 to Australia. There Dowie took a five years' course in theology and became a master in Greek and Hebrew. In 1878 in Melbourne he set up a free Christian tabernacle, organized a divine healing association, and gained fame by going out into the country during the prevalence of a putrid fever and apparently effecting many cures by prayer and the laying on of hands. Dowie landed in San Francisco in 1888. After two years of wandering he and his family arrived in Chicago, which became the theater of his work. During the next five years Dowie was arrested at least 100 times for violations of city ordinances relating to the care of the sick, but the more trouble made for him the more he prospered. The Christian Catholic church in Zion City was organized in 1896. The value of the lace factory and other holdings in Zion City are estimated at $28,000,000.

John Alexander Dowie's final message to the world was given to Judge Barnes, who with a nurse and one other attendant, was alone with him at the end. Judge Barnes said that Dowie died quietly and without pain and was composed. He also said that several days ago Dowie called him and, foreseeing his demise, held a long conversation with him. Judge Barnes said he could not divulge the purport of that conversation now, but is prepared to do so when the occasion arises.

Cock-Fighters Made
Attack on OfficersSUNDAY SALOONS
MAY BE CLOSED
FOR ALL TIMEMayor Calls Conference---
May Use His Big Stick

Mayor Smith called a meeting of the saloon keepers for Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in his office. At this meeting the subject of Sunday closing will be taken up. The city officials have found evidence that saloons are doing business in the city, but cannot catch all of them.

It has been stated that if the Sunday closing ordinance is not obeyed, SUCH SALOONS WILL BE DECLARED A NUISANCE AND EVERY ONE WILL BE CLOSED ALL THE TIME.

The saloon keepers will be given a chance to talk at the meeting Thursday, and it is rumored that they will ask to be given until 11:30 o'clock on Saturday night. Another rumored suggestion is to give them a few hours on Sunday, with the idea that there will not be as many drunks if the patrons can get a drink and then stop. As it is now, they buy the night before and drink all day Sunday, with a consequence of many drunks, is the rather surprising statement. It is not thought that this will meet with much favor with the authorities.

Will Stay Here.

Joseph Finlay has sold his fine Millcreek farm to Marshall Endsley who will take possession June 1, brief mention of which was made in Saturday's Age. While no plans are announced it is not likely that Mr. Finlay and his family will move from the county, but in fact they may move nearer this city, a fact that will be hailed with pleasure by their many warm friends.

Everybody Reads The Age

The biggest call for The Daily Age so far in the year 1907 was made by the public Saturday. It was due largely to the fact of the return of Ben Dickerson and the interest the public at large felt in the story of his return to his old place in the Coshocoton county jail. Coshocoton county didn't know there was any thought of bringing Dickerson back here until The Age told it and since then interest in his case has revived. Age hustlers on the streets were overwhelmed by the demand for The Age and by 5 o'clock the supply was completely exhausted, but still the demand kept up.

RELIGION OF DICKERSON
SAID TO HAVE CHANGEDNow Said He Has Reverted to Protestantism Once More

The report comes now that Ben Dickerson has rejected the Roman Catholic faith and has embraced Protestantism. Whether this is of vast importance to the world at large is problematical but anything concerning a man who has once been condemned to the death chair for taking human life is of interest to many people.

A week ago Frank Tyler, of this city, was in Columbus and chanced to converse with the man who has charge of the prisoners in the annex of the Ohio penitentiary. He talked for some time about Dickerson and said that a few weeks ago Ben decided that Catholicism was not to his liking and stated that after studying its tenets he found that it was not for him. The penitentiary man described Dickerson as a very peculiar man and told a number of strange antics which Bent went through while confined in the annex.

CAUGHT AT PIT-SIDE BUT FOUGHT THEIR WAY OUTCrowd Recognized And Will be Summoned Before Court---
Fifty Were There

In a raid on a chicken fight down the river Sunday morning at 2:30 there was a general scrimmage in which Officer Jackson was hit over the head with a beer bottle and suffered a severe scalp wound, and Sheriff Browning was also an object of attack.

The sports assembled failed to show up at Squire Wimmer's court Monday morning as promised and the authorities say they are now going to have the complete list up for hearing Tuesday. The sports also deny that they had started their fun as they declare the officers broken in before any fight had started and that the chickens were all in their bags yet.

The raid's most serious aspect is the fact that there was resistance to the officers.

One of the largest chicken fights in the history of the county was put to a sudden ending about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, when Humane Officer Jackson and Sheriff Browning appeared on the scene. The fight was being held at the old Brown farm about two miles south of the city, in the cellar of the residence occupied by John Elson. At least 50 sports had assembled to witness the event.

The officers knew of the fight and had planned a big raid, but some of the promised help did not appear. The humane officer was so in earnest over the affair that he knew was going on, that he and Sheriff Browning corralled three young men including an Age reporter and the five went to the place alone.

Door Was Locked

They found the door of the cellar was locked on the inside, but it required little effort on their part to break in. Once on the inside, the startled faces of the fifty sports turned toward the door for just one look. Then such a scramble for the exit was never before witnessed. An inside cellarway afforded a means of escape for most of them, and those who were too late to escape by that means, knocked the guard of the outside door back along the wall and ran into the open air, several of them in their coat sleeves.

About one dozen were caught in the cellar, and they hastily turned out the lights, which were gaspings torches, and tried to assault Officer Jackson. The sheriff was struck on the head. Some one lighted the lamps again, and the officers found the birds hanging along the wall in sacks. One of the Elson boys, tried to eject the officers and in a scuffle, Officer Jackson was struck in the head with a beer bottle and slightly cut. It was necessary to have Dr. Nelson dress the wound upon arriving home but it is considered quite harmless.

The proprietor was finally brought into subjection and his father promised to have him appear before Squire Wimmer today. Both the officers having been injured, they came back to the city and had their injuries attended. The birds were left in their places.

Many Birds There.
It is said that two birds were killed in the fights that took place before the raid. Only a few fights had taken place from the evidence there, judging from the feathers lying in the pit. The birds were from Zanesville, Newark, Columbus, Danison, and this city and considerably money exchanged hands it is said.

It was not the intention of the officers to arrest the men, but to find out who they were and have them appear before the court. A great many were recognized, and if they do not appear, will be arrested and brought in, adding additional costs.

GUARANTEED REMEDY FOR INDIGESTION

Interesting Statement by C. E. Anderson

When a man comes into this store and calls for any particular indigestion remedy, we always give him what he asks for, but in case he leaves it to us we usually recommend Pepsikola tablets.

Here is a preparation we have been selling right over the counter for years, and from actual observation we know it must do good, and really does relieve and cure indigestion and dyspepsia or there would be a steady stream of people coming back for their money, as every 25 cent box is sold with the understanding that you must be decidedly benefited or there is nothing to pay.

You simply try Pepsikola tablets with the understanding that they will steady your nerves, improve your appetite, relieve wind belching, coated tongue, sour stomach, fullness after eating, weakened energy, and other symptoms of indigestion or C. E. Anderson is ready at any time to pay back your money without the least argument.

The time to buy land in Oklahoma or Texas is before it is all sold. Thousands of acres are being sold daily. Ask McConnell & Kerr for information.

"Fresh Roasted Coffee?—bah! Mother didn't use fresh roasted coffee, she had Arbuckles."

The way to get a good cup of coffee that tastes like Coffee with all the delicious flavor and aroma intact, is to buy a package of the old original Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, and grind it as you want to use it, first warming it a little to develop the flavor and make the grinding easy. Coffee loses its identity as Coffee after being ground or exposed to the air and is easily contaminated by handling.

Arbuckles' was the first roasted packaged coffee.

The pores of each coffee berry are sealed after roasting with fresh eggs and granulated sugar to hold the goodness in and make the coffee settle clear and quickly; an actual application by machinery, of "Mother's" methods—as patented by this firm.

THE CONQUEST of CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

This grave courtesy caused a strong, deep flush to spread itself under the rouge which unevenly covered the woman's cheeks as she bowed elaborately in return. Then furtively, during a protracted silence, she took stock of the new comer from the tip of her white suede shoes to the flimsy lace and pink roses upon her wide white hat, and the sidelong gaze lingered marvelously upon the quiet, delicate hands, slender and finely expressive, in their white gloves.

Her own hands, unlike the lady's, began to fidget confusedly, and the silence continuing, she coughed several times to effect the preface required by her sense of fitness before she felt it proper to observe, with a polite titter: "Mr. Loudon seems to be a good while comin'."

"Have you been waiting very long?" asked the lady.

"Ever since 6 o'clock!"

"Yes," said the other, "that is very long."

"Yes, ma'am, it certainly is." The ice thus broken, she felt free to use her eyes more directly and, after a long, frank stare, exclaimed:

"Why, you must be Miss Ariel Taber, ain't you?"

"Yes," Ariel touched one of the roses upon Joe's desk, with her finger tips—"I am Miss Taber."

"Well, excuse me for asking: I'm sure it ain't any business of mine," said the other, remembering the manners due one lady from another. "But I thought it must be. I expect," she added, with loud, inconsequent laughter, "there's not many in Canaan ain't heard you've come back."

She paused, laughed again, nervously, and again, less loudly, to take off the edge of her abruptness, gradually titillating herself down to a pause, to fill which she put forth, "Right nice weather we be'n havin'."

"Yes," said Ariel.

"It was rainy first of last week though. I don't mind rain so much"—this with more laughter—"I stay in the house when it rains. Some people don't know enough to, they say. You've heard that saying, ain't you, Miss Taber?"

"Yes."

"Well, I tell you," she exclaimed noisily, "there's plenty ladies and gentlemen in this town that's like that."

Her laughter did not cease. It became louder and shriller. It had been until now a mere lubrication of the conversation, helping to make her easier in Miss Taber's presence, but as it increased in shrillness she seemed to be losing control of herself, as if her laughter were getting away with her. She was not far from hysteria when she stopped with a gasp, and she sat up straight in her chair, white and rigid.

"There!" she said listening intently. "Ain't that him?" Steps sounded upon the pavement below, paused for a second at the foot of the stairs; there was a snap of a match, then the steps sounded again, retreating. She sank back in her chair limply. "It was only some one stoppin' to light his cigar in the entry. It wasn't Joe Loudon's step anyway."

"You know his step?" Ariel's eyes were bent upon the woman wonderingly.

"I'd know it tonight," was the answer, delivered with a sharp and painful giggle. "I got plenty reason to."

Ariel did not respond. She leaned a little closer to the roses upon the desk, letting them touch her face and breathing deeply of their fragrance to neutralize a perfume which pervaded the room, an odor as heavy and cheap-sweet as the face of the woman who had saturated her handkerchief with it, a scent which went with her perfectly and made her unhappily definite; suited to her clumsily dyed hair, to her soiled white shoes, to the hot red hat smothered in plumage, to the restless stub fingered hands, to the fat, plated rings, of which she wore a great quantity, though, surprisingly enough, the large diamonds in her ears were pure and of a very clear water. It was she who broke the silence once more. "Well," she drawled, coughing gently at the same time, "better late than never, as the saying is. I wonder who it is gets up all them comical sayings?" Apparently she had no genuine desire for light upon this mystery as she continued immediately: "I have a gentleman friend that's always gittin' 'em off. Well, he says, 'the best of friends must part,' and 'Thou striketh me to the heart'—all kinds of cracks like that. He's real comical. And yet," she went on in an altered voice, "I don't like him much. I'd be glad if I'd never seen him."

The change of tone was so marked that Ariel looked at her keenly, to find herself surprised into pitying this strange client of Joe's, for tears had sprung to the woman's eyes and slid along the lids, where she tried vainly to restrain them. Her face had altered, too, like her voice, haggard lines suddenly appearing about the eyes and mouth as if they had just been penciled there—the truth issuing from beneath her pinchbeck simulations like a tragic mask revealed by the displacement of a tawdry covering.

"I expect you think I'm real foolish," she said, "but I be'n waitin' so awful long, and I got a good deal of worry on my mind till I see Mr. Loudon."

"I am sorry," Ariel turned from the roses and faced her and the heavy perfume. "I hope he will come soon."

"I hope so," said the other. "It's something to do with me that keeps him away, and the longer he is the more it scares me." She shivered and set her teeth together. "It's kind of hard waitin'. I cert'ly got my share of troubles."

"Don't you think that Mr. Loudon will be able to take care of them for you?"

"Oh, I hope so, Miss Taber! If he can't, nobody can." She was crying openly now, wiping her eyes with her musk soaked handkerchief. "We had to send for him yesterday afternoon!"

"To come to Beaver Beach, do you mean?" asked Ariel, leaning forward.

"Yes, ma'am. It all begun out there—leastways it begun before that with me. It was all my fault. I deserve all that's comin' to me, I guess. I done wrong! I done wrong! I'd oughtn't never to of went out there yesterday."

She checked herself sharply, but after a moment's pause continued, encouraged by the grave kindness of the delicate face in the shadow of the wide white hat. "Oughtn't to of went," she repeated. "Oh, I reckon I'll never, never learn enough to keep out of trouble, even when I see it comin'! But that gentleman friend of mine—Mr. Nashville Cory's his name—he kind of coaxed me into it, and he's right comical when he's with ladies, and he's good company, and he says, 'Claudine, we'll dance the light fantastic,' he says, and I kind of wanted something cheerful. I'd be'n workin' steady quite a spell, and it looked like he wanted to show me a good time, so I went, and that's what started it."

Now that she had begun she bubbled on with her story, at times incoherent, full of excuses made to herself more than to Ariel, pitifully endeavoring to convince herself that the responsibility for the muddle she had made was not hers. "Mr. Cory told me my husband was drinkin' and wouldn't know about it, and 'Besides,' he says, 'what's the odds?' Of course I knowed there was trouble between him and Mr. Fear—that's my husband—a good while ago, when Mr. Fear up and laid him out. That was before me and Mr. Fear got married; I hadn't even be'n to Canaan then; I was on the stage. I was on the stage quite awhile in Chicago, before I got acquainted with my husband."

"You were on the stage?" Ariel exclaimed involuntarily.

RHEUMATISM AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system leaves the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off, to sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid-charged condition, it deposits the poisons and irritating particles with which it is loaded in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones. Then Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and life is made miserable by its pains, aches and discomforts. The changing of the weather, exposure to cold and dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and so severe does the pain become that quick relief must be had. A good liniment or plaster is often helpful, but it should be remembered that relief from such treatment is only temporary, because the trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid-poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. Bulk of Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free. DR. J. C. S. S. S. CO., CHICAGO, ILL.

EMPLOYEES WALKED OUT

Louisville Street Railway Lines Tied Up by a Strike.

Louisville, March 11.—The strike of the union employees of the Louisville Railway company, which has been pending for a week, became effective Sunday. Although there were left nearly 300 employees out of a total of 1,100 who were not members of the union at the time the strike was called, and part of these showed up for work, the company made not the slightest attempt to run passenger cars. Only the postal cars bearing the signs "U. S. Mail" were operated. The men operating them were not molested in any way. The details of police at the barns, etc., had nothing to do. Pickets were active in an inconspicuous way, and the union leaders announced that over a fourth of the remaining nonunion employees had been won over and joined the union. A mass meeting called by the Louisville Federation of Labor was held, at which all the unions affiliated with that body pledged their moral and financial support, and arrangements for a strike fund to be contributed to by all unions in Louisville were made. Speeches were made exhorting strict obedience to the law, and the leaders of the strike pledged rigid abstinence from any form of violence and coercion.

The demands on which the strike is based are: A 10-hour workday, with 22 cents an hour pay; 45 minutes for meals; pay for extra work to begin when report for duty is made; time and a half for overtime; subsequent employees to be allowed to join the union and a board of arbitration. Officials of the company denied that they had ordered a force of professional strike-breakers from other cities. They stated that, counting the number of individual applications on file since the strike looked up and the number of old employees holding out from the union, they would have a force sufficient to operate their main lines, and would start the service promptly and maintain it.

Strike Ended in Paris. Paris, March 11.—The city has resumed its normal aspect. All the electric plants are working, the electricians having been granted all demands. The public is alarmed at the ease with which a few hundred workmen, at the instigation of the Confederation of Labor, are able to throw the population into confusion, and the newspapers print editorials demanding legislation which will prevent workmen engaged in supplying a public necessity from striking. It is pointed out that the electricians, now that they know their power, may not rest content with present conditions. It is pointed out as a significant fact that the strike committee is still holding meetings.

THE HEALTHY STOMACH

"We never know. We have a Stomach Unless Something is Wrong With It."

When you begin to realize that you have a stomach, it means that this organ is not in good condition, and it is reminding you of the fact.

Do not feel discouraged and miserable because of the presence of indigestion. It is the best thing in the world for you if you can only see it and give the stomach proper treatment.

Change the weak stomach to a healthy one by using Mi-o-na stomach tablets. This remedy is not a mere digestive, giving only temporary relief, but a combination of remedies that actually strengthen the stomach, excite the secretion of gastric juices and enable the digestive organs to care for food you eat in a natural, normal way.

By taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal you can enjoy a good dinner without distress and suffering, and you will never know that you have a stomach.

C. E. Anderson sold a good many 500 boxes of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, and the more the remedy is used, the more friends it has, for every box gives satisfaction. It is sold under an absolute guarantee that the money will be refunded should Mi-o-na fail to give satisfaction. C. E. Anderson takes all the risk and the remedy will cost you nothing unless it cures.

WOULD IMPROVE TOILERS' CONDITION

Chicago, March 11.—Legislation to improve the condition of wage-workers was urged by Governor Charles S. Deneen at a mass meeting here marking the formal opening of the Chicago industrial exhibit. Miss Jane Addams outlined the objects sought through the exhibit. She said it was intended to awaken public conscience to the necessity of remedial measures to stop human slaughter in mines, mills, factories and railroads and to improve living conditions of industrial workers.

Demonstration of Miners

Lens, France, March 11.—The anniversary of the mine disaster at Courrières, in which more than 1,000 miners lost their lives, was celebrated by a great demonstration by the mining population of the department of Pas de Calais. Handed by bands of music and waving banners, processions marched to the cemeteries in the district, where the Socialist deputies, Basi and Lamendin, made violent speeches against the companies owning the mines.

GEORGE W. GLOVER, SON OF MARY BAKER G. EDDY.

George W. Glover, who has instituted a suit for the accounting of the affairs of his mother, Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, founder of the Christian Science cult, is a resident of Lead City, S. D. Mr. Glover is the only child of Mrs. Eddy. He is only about twenty years younger than his mother, who is eighty-six. His father, Mrs. Eddy's first husband, died several months before his birth. The boy was raised by strangers and is said to have been associated with his mother but very little. He is not a Christian Scientist.

money this county is paying toward road and bridge funds each year, a bond issue of $400,000 could be made and taken care of and still leave a comfortable sum each year for the other roads and bridges of the county. Or, if more were wanted for the other roads and bridges, the taxes could be increased a small percentage that would be felt by no man. But go on the presumption that there is not to be an increase of tax. Where is the fault to be found? This city and this county both need good roads and the two new bridges. It will be the best expenditure this community ever made. It is a matter of progress and if this county and city votes it down or fails to take it up it is the biggest hindrance to this community's prosperity that has been made in many a day. Think this matter over individually for yourself Mr. Landowner, Mr. Voter, Mr. Taxpayer, and reason what it means for the increased value of your own property. Will you go on paying your taxes every year and having from $40,000 to $60,000 dumped into mud roads and cheap bridges, or will you have something all paid for at the end of 30 years of which you will be everlastingly proud and which will stand as a monument to the wisdom of yourself and your generation. It is up to you.

He claimed that Hiser knew his age, but the evidence was not sufficient, so the charge was not sustained.

A banquet followed the contest, the toastmaster being James Johnson Jr. Homer Cory welcomed the visitors on behalf of Antioch, and others spoke.

Crow Says "Warmer Days"

If the crow and his flight north ward has anything to do with warm weather it is likely to be summer heat within a week, for citizens declare that anywhere between 500 and 1000 crows passed over the city Sunday flying northward.

Some one from out of town, just who is not yet known, is expected to direct the final rehearsals and as knowing ones say the seniors have plenty of histrionic ability there is no reason why this year's "dramatics" should not be quite to those of '06 or '05 or '04 or '03.

A Personal Invitation to You

Ruth Jones and Co.

The progressive up to date milliners of Coshocton wish to announce to you that on Friday and Saturday March 15 and 16, "all day and evening" is the date decided on for our Spring Opening. We expect this season to surpass all former efforts in our display of beautiful and bewildering millinery. We have employed two trimmers who with their ample corps of assistants have ready some of the loveliest creations in millinery that it has been your good fortune to see.

Miss Verna Matheny, our head trimmer, comes to us from Toledo, having had a wide experience both in her home city and in a number of the leading cities including Cleveland, Columbus and the ever popular Gage Millinery house of Chicago.

We advocate the idea that you have to get away from home once in a while to get new ideas, new styles, in fact you have to keep in touch with the progressive city styles. Therefore we are more than careful this season in bringing to you a thorough up to date trimmer. All we ask of you is to come in and inspect the work.

We will also have on display some elegant patterns, "plums" which we have selected from the Pattern rooms of Pittsburg, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Columbus and Buffalo. It will be impossible to see these new Easter conceptions without being fascinated with their beauty. And the price will add to the enthusiasm for our supremacy as a value giving store has been clearly demonstrated. It is our ambition to give you hats at a price that will eclipse any other contemporary values. We ask you to come in and be your own judge.

Please consider this a personal invitation to yourself and your friends to come and enjoy the greatest display of Easter millinery to be found in your city.

We will have hats to suit all, pretty dressy shapes as well as some very clever designs in tailored effects. Step in and try some of them on. We will treat you courteously at any and all times, whether you buy or not.

Why Look Old

Wrinkles and crows feet make you look 10 years older than you are.

What causes them—eye strains. If you do not believe it, just place yourself before a mirror, then try to thread a fine needle or look at some fine print, for a few moments—now give a quick glance up in the mirror and see how you have made these very wrinkles in trying to force your eyes to see well. Yes, we know you say you can see all right, but if you could (or you had glasses properly fitted) you would not need to make this effort and no wrinkles would show up. Our Optical Specialist will be pleased to examine your eyes FREE OF CHARGE, and afford you the pleasure of looking young again. Our methods of eye fitting are the only scientific ones, brought out by years of study and experience.

The front edges are finished with broad hems, and the fronts are laid in alternate tucks and box plaits, while the back is plain. There are regular shirt sleeves, and there is a plain stock, over which the tie is arranged, the two closing together at the back.

—The New Liquezone—to All Who Will Ask.

What more can we do to prove the value of Liquezone than to buy you a bottle to try? We don't want to argue with you; we want the product itself to prove its value. So we ask you to do as millions have done—try it at our expense. Its results, at the least, will speak for themselves.

For five years Liquezone has done for countless people just what you need, perhaps. Your own neighbors and friends are among them. Please don't think that what the product has done so often cannot be done for you.

What Liquezone Is.

Liquezone is a tonic-germicide, the virtues of which are derived solely from oxide gases. No alcohol, no narcotic, nothing but gas enters into it. The process of making requires large apparatus, and consumes 14 days' time. The object is to so combine the gases with a liquid as to carry their virtues into the system.

The result is a germicide so certain that we publish with every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that Liquezone cannot kill. It destroys them because germs are of vegetable origin. But to the body Liquezone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying.

That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poisons when taken internally. They are impossible, for they destroy the tissues as well as the germs. That is why medicine proves so helpless in dealing with germ diseases. Liquezone, on the contrary, acts as a remarkable tonic.

We Paid $100,000.

For the rights to Liquezone, after thousands of tests had been made with it, after its power had been demonstrated for more than two years in the most difficult germ diseases. Conditions which had resisted medicine for years yielded at once to it, and diseases considered incurable were cured.

That was five years ago. Since then millions of people in every part of the world have shared in the benefits of this invention. Nearly every hamlet, every neighborhood, has living examples of its power. Now we ask you to let it do for you what it did for them.

Germ Diseases.

Most of our sickness has, in late years, been traced to germ attacks. Some germs—as in skin troubles—directly attack the tissues. Some create toxins, causing such troubles as Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Kidney Disease and nerve weakness. Some destroy vital organs, as in Consumption. Some—like the germs of Catarrh—create inflammation, some cause indigestion. In one of these ways, nearly every serious ailment is a germ result.

Such conditions call for a germicide, not for common drugs. Liquezone does what other means cannot accomplish. And it is wrong to cling to old ways when millions of people know a way that is better.

50c Bottle Free.

If you wish to know what Liquezone does please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the product itself show you what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it to-day, for it places you under no obligations whatever.

Liquezone costs 50c and $1.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON

Fill it out and mail it to The Liquezone Company, 438-44 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

My disease is _____
I have never tried the new Liquezone, but if you will supply me a 50c bottle free I will take it.

We are now putting out an improved Liquezone, based on five years of experience. And even if you may accept the above offer to learn how much better the new product is, Liquezone is guaranteed under the new Pure Food Law.

For a full-size bottle or a 50c bottle not yet using Liquezone will be gladly supplied for a test.

DR. REES IS ON LAST WEEK

Plain Things Discussed at Men's Meeting Sunday

The meetings for men only at the M. E. church closed Sunday afternoon with a sermon by Dr. Rees on the "Reasons Found in Coshocton Why Men Are Not Christians." As usual the evangelist was greeted by a large audience. These meetings have been very helpful and many men have been influenced to lead better lives.

The sermon was based upon letters and interviews from some of Coshocton's leading citizens, and the reasons he found from these letters and interviews were: Business cares men claiming to be good enough without becoming Christians; procrastination; hypocrites in the church; the influence of men outside the church; secret societies and clubs; fear of failure and ridicule; satisfaction in the life of sin, drink and the dualism. While Dr. Rees did not condemn secret societies he emphasized the fact that they can never take the place of the church. Scathing criticism was uttered against the men who took an occasional drink and against inconsistent church members. The practice of permitting young men and women to walk the streets together at night was severely condemned. The evangelist especially spoke of the immorality of young men and women and some of the practices of the young men of this city are unthinkable. Along this line Dr. Rees spoke only from the knowledge gained from men of Coshocton.

In closing he said the gospel was the remedy for all sin and gave three reasons why every man should be a Christian.

First, he owes it to God. Second, he owes it to others. Third, he owes it to his own soul. The closing services for this week are announced as follows:

Monday, Mar. 11
3:30 p. m. young women only "A Young Woman at Her Best."
7:30 p. m. "Satan Came Also."
No person can afford to miss this address.

Tuesday, March 12.
2:30 p. m. young women only "Some things that keep women from becoming Christians."
7:30 p. m. "The Unanswered question."

Wednesday, March 13.
Closing day.
2:30 p. m. special afternoon service for all.
7:30 p. m. "God's command for two worlds."

In announcing Dr. Rees' sermon for tonight at Grace M. E. church Rev. Robertson said that it would be the sermon of all sermons that will cling to the memory and remain with the ones who hear it long after all the other sermons are forgotten. The subject as first announced was "Satan Came Also" but Dr. Rees has made the subject more impressive by changing it to "Satan at Grace M. E. church Monday night."

The crowd at the service Sunday evening was an enormous one. The big auditorium was taxed to its utmost capacity. Every seat was occupied, and a number of people were seated on the steps in the aisles up in the balcony. It was a magnificent audience and perhaps the largest ever assembled in Coshocton.

The sermon was a soul-stirring one, and its effect was very visible toward the close of the meeting when many men accepted the invitation to retire to the other room where a fine after-meeting was held. "Is It Nothing to You?" was the theme of the sermon and it was very broad in its scope, dealing with the immortality of the soul and picturing the scenes surrounding the crucifixion of Christ in a most graphic way.

It is significant that Christ came first to the Jews. The fountain of grace was opened first of all to the wandering ones of God's children.

After the sermon by Rev. Rose there was a most impressive baptismal service in which one strong man publicly confessed his faith in Jesus Christ.

At the close of the service Dr. Rees gave some account of the remarkable successful work of Evangelists Wilson and Pengelly who are soon to begin work with the Baptist church and concluded his talk with some timely exhortation.

Rev. Rose left Monday morning for his home in Granville.

For any pain, from top to toe, from any cause, apply Dr. Thomas' Echinocyst. It will stay where it is and work.

MERCHANT IS GOOD PREACHER

Chas. Peacock, Shoeman, Occupied Pulpit Sunday Night

In the absence of Rev. I. B. Dill, C. L. Peacock filled the pulpit at the Christian Union church Sunday evening. He delivered an excellent discourse on the inability of escape, if we neglect salvation. He said in part: "I want to bring before you a message which is on my heart, one which is old, yet always new. I have known what it was for 20 years yet it is new to me tonight. It is something we are all interested in or should be and demands our prayer and attention for tonight, while I speak of God's blessed word."

I feel the responsibility as his child, and the opportunities open to his children in this life. I have this passage of scripture upon which to base my thoughts. Hebrews, 2 part of third verse: 'How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?'

"So great a salvation because it comes from God. It comes from a great God who sees and knows every thing. Knows even the secrets of our heart and home; our business transactions and our desires. A great salvation from a great God. Our God is a mighty God and just. One that can speak and commune with you and me; one that can bring about the best thing for the human race. This great God brings a great salvation to you and me tonight. This great salvation is based on a great love. God so loved the world that whosoever believed in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"A great salvation, a great God, and a great love. Now I can see in this world something new happening daily. Pick up the daily papers, and read of some great earthquake or flood day after day, and men call that wonderful. But it don't compare with this great salvation."

"Look at the sun with all its noon-day heat and light. We say that is a great thing but how do we know? Because we have been told so time and time again. Even that does not compare with this great salvation."

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation? You know what it is to neglect something in the shop. One time when I was at work I went to another part of the shop. When I returned the box I had been working at was spoiled just through my neglect, and I hid it from the foreman's view. Salvation is purchased for you and me, and should be looked into."

"This salvation of Jesus Christ takes in the whole world, babes and children as well as old people. Rich and poor. He has promised that if we will not neglect it and come, there is pardon, joy and peace and everything we need. If we would only get awake to the fact that this will lift you and I up out of the lake of mire and clay. What shall we do? What have we been doing? Neglecting? Yes. Oh parents, where are your tonight? Oh, indifferent one, where are you? Out in sin; tossed about hither and thither, not knowing where you are going. This great love is for you. Will you accept it? Only two men ever left this world alive, Eli and Elisha. They had salvation before they went. Friends I plead with you, that you will look to Him tonight. Come back to God! He is calling you today. Are you ready to receive Him? We cannot escape and neglect this great salvation. God wants your young lives in service for Him. What are we to do? Neglect, and be stolen away to hell to spend eternity?"

"Some call a person who is trying to serve God, a hypocrite. If it was not for the good people in this city today, it would be like Sodom of old and be destroyed. Oh sinner come tonight and accept this great salvation from a great God with a great love. He will set you free and start you off with the spirit of love in your heart. Look unto Him and accept Him tonight."

How Scientists Conduct Services

Charles F. Meek, recently of New York but now of Adams Mills, is first reader of the Coshocton Christian Science society. He furnishes The Age the following:

Christian Science services in Central labor hall were well attended yesterday. The same service is held in Coshocton every Sunday that is held in every Christian Science church throughout the world. The service is always read by two readers, a male and a female. One reads from the Bible and the other from the Christian Science text book. The Christian Science Bible lessons for all Sunday church services are issued quarterly at their publishing house in Boston. Five of the six church in Chicago have built magnificent temples with a seating capacity of about 1500 each, and every Sunday are filled with a throng to hear this simple service read. There are six churches in the borough of Manhattan, New York city. The Boston temple erected at a cost of $2,000,000 with a seating capacity of 5,000 is well filled at every service. Of the one thousand congregations the largest branch of the mother church is in New York and has erected a temple at a cost of $1,185,000 with a seating capacity of more than 2,000.

Fine Sermon at Baptist Church

Rev. C. L. Rose, secretary of the Ohio Baptist convention, preached last evening to a large and attentive audience upon the theme, "The Mission of Divine Love," basing his sermon upon the work of Luke 19:10 "For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost." In part the preacher spoke as follows:

"There is no more wonderful power on the universe than the power of love. History is full of examples of the working of its subtle force. It is to be seen everywhere in its influence over the activities of men. For love men work and war. It is the only adequate explanation of the incarnation of Jesus Christ. God so loved the world, that He gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life.

"One must have a sense of need to appreciate the love of God and have it act as a motive in his life. Here Dr. Rose referred to the loss of his own boy, his only son, and

LID SLIPPED OFF SALOON

John Gross's saloon on Main street was found doing business Sunday by Chief Maple and Officer Freteug. This saloon was on the list of unsuspected ones, and is the first time caught doing any business on Sunday. About 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning the two officers were passing the place, and heard voices inside. Chief Maple sent Freteug to the rear, while he knocked on the front door. Five patrons ran to the rear and were stopped by Officer Freteug. He was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Smith Monday morning.

JEROME

Finishes Consultations With Experts. Plans Not Revealed.

New York, March 11.—District Attorney Jerome finished for the present his consultations with the alienists who will testify in behalf of the state in the trial of Harry Thaw. No formal statement, however, could be had from the prosecution. It was indicated that Mr. Jerome did not wish his immediate plans to be known in advance to the defense. It is said that a hypothetical question was formed. Assistant District Attorney Garvan was at the criminal courts building and assisted in the work of the stenographers, who made copies of questions, which later were submitted to Mr. Jerome. Subpoena servers were kept busy and made frequent trips to the criminal courts building and to Mr. Jerome's home. When asked as to the preparation being made by Mr. Jerome for the rebuttal, Mr. Garvan said that nothing could be made public.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is under subpoena to appear in court and to bring all the letters she had from Stanford White.

TENEMENT FIRE.

Four Persons Perish in Brooklyn. The Victims.

New York, March 11.—Four persons were burned to death in Brooklyn, three in a tenement fire in Burwick avenue and a woman in her home. One man was mortally injured. The dead: Ida Bingalli, 22; Mary Bingalli, 2; Brigetto Bingalli, 4 months; Mrs. Annie Tischler, 45. Within two minutes after the fire was discovered it swept up the cellar stairs and reached the airshaft. When the firemen arrived there were more than 30 persons crowded into the front windows. Ladders were quickly raised and firemen carried all to the street with the exception of Mrs. Bingalli and her two children.

Archie Roosevelt Improving.

Washington, March 11.—Marked improvement was shown in the condition of Archie Roosevelt, the president's son, who is ill with diphtheria. Surgeon General Rixey expressed the opinion that Archie was practically out of danger so far as the diphtheria is concerned, but that the disease has left him in somewhat weakened condition. He added, however, that if no complications set in the boy should be well in two or three weeks.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain as long as possible one's youthful appearance.

It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxuriant growth of hair. The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 50c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
